

The June Braund Scholarship is designed for the student with interests in gerontological counseling. As our population ages, the needs of our senior citizens become ever more prominent in our society. This scholarship will provide $5,000 per calendar year. The maximum amount awarded to a recipient during enrollment at Richmont is $15,000 over a period no longer than three years.

In addition to financial assistance, the recipient will be privileged to be mentored by Dr. Ron Braund, the scholarship donor, counseling entrepreneur and PSI/Richmont alumnus. Dr. Braund will offer his experience to the recipient as the student grows professionally and personally in this field of gerontological psychotherapy.

The recipient will complete a combination of educational experiences, including: Two masters-level courses in gerontology (either through independent study or enrollment at an accredited graduate school in the local area), approximately 5 hours per week in service groups, individuals or families dealing with Alzheimer's or choosing an internship outplacement that works directly with this population.

A scholarship committee will begin reviewing applications immediately for scholarships to be awarded this coming fall semester. The next program deadline for applications is May 1st. Please be aware that the scholarship committee reserves the right to conduct interviews of applicants as deemed appropriate. Please include a statement of your desire to do gerontological counseling and demonstrates your financial need.
